

TJC & CMS Infection Prevention & Control Overview

Program Overview

The surveys for 2019-2020 have been early based on Medicare's desire to surprise healthcare organizations. Continuous readiness becomes a must in this environment. Let Judith M. Atkins, RN, MSN share with you feedback and implications for Infection Practitioners and their staff and Committee Members. You will gain an understanding of The Joint Commission, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, and Center for Disease Control and Prevention's approach to Infection Control and Prevention.

Program Topics

1. The Joint Commission's approach to Infection, Prevention and Control 2019-2020 in applicable standards.
2. The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) and Center's for Disease Control (CDC)'s impact on Infection Prevention and Control survey process.
3. Operative and Invasive Procedural Areas: Infection Control Implications.
4. Top findings for The Joint Commission and Center's for Medicare/Medicaid Services/Center's for Disease Control.

Program Objectives

1. Describe the 2020 Joint Commission Infection Prevention and Control process for surveys.
2. List the steps in the survey process for CMS and CDC in 2019/2020.
3. List new implications for Operative and Invasive Procedural Areas.
4. List the top two findings for TJC, CMS, and CDC.

About the Speaker

Judith M. Atkins, RN, MSN, President and CEO McKenna Consulting, has over 20 years of experience as a public speaker and consultant to health care professionals. Hundreds of healthcare organizations, nationally and internationally, have participated in the McKenna System while preparing for a Joint Commission review. These healthcare organizations have done well in the area of compliance with The Joint Commission and Centers for Medicare and Medicaid. Judith has taught Infection Control to various APIC state groups to assist them in understanding the requirements in the field of Infection Prevention and Control. She also assisted the government in the evaluation of Joint Commission's ability to meet Medicare's deemed status requirements.

Who Should Attend

The Joint Commission/CMS Coordinator; Chief Nurse Executive; Infection Control Practitioners and members of the Infection Control Committee; Performance Improvement Coordinator and Staff; Department Managers responsible for Infection Prevention and Control; and Staff from Nursing and Ancillaries. Staff from anywhere doing high level disinfecting and sterilization will benefit from this program. Departments usually include; Imaging, Provider Based Practices (especially urology); OR and Central Sterile; Endoscopy and Anesthesia. Facilities staff will benefit from ventilation, temperature and humidity discussion.
